"LA BASTILLE."

This powerful drama will be the opening bill by Stattz' Big New York Theatre Co., which open their week's engagement at the Hilliard Opera House, Monday, Nov. 18. The play is in five acts, taken from the great French Commune, giving a historical sketch from the year 1793 to 1800 of the struggle for French freedom. Unlike other historical plays, it abounds in comedy, realistic and true to nature and pronounced by the critics to be stranger than Monte Cristo, more worthy and stirring than Quo Vadis. The play not only entertains but educates. Like Shakespeare's sublime tragedies "La Bastille" will always be a blessing to mankind. It is not fiction but reality. The costumes are beautiful, picturesque, and of the period. There will be a change of play nightly, and popular prices will prevail.

Mining in Western Ontario is now being conducted on sound business-like lines, and as a result the present feeling here is one of the utmost confidence in the future of the industry. The success of such mines as the Mikado, Sakoose, Sultan and Black Eagle has demonstrated that it requires only the same careful foresight as is employed in other business ventures to make the industry one of certain and large profit.

THE NAIRN CONCERT.

On Tuesday night an evening, with Blundrers was given in the opera house by Robert Nairn B. A., assisted by good talent. The musical programme contained numbers by Mrs. Gunning, Miss Lunnon, Mr. Carpenter and the Messrs. Sutherland, Mrs. Ferguson being unable to sing on account of a cold. Mrs. Gunning appeared in a beautiful evening dress of pink peau de soie trimmed with cream meadow lace edged with black velvet, body ribbon, and looked charming. She was greeted with a welcome burst of applause as she came on the stage, and at the conclusion of her song, was vociferously encored. Mrs. McLean created a good impression with her first reading, and she received a rousing call to which she responded with The Stuffed owl, an old favorite piece with a Rat Portage audience. Mr. Augus' Sutherland was in fine voice, and sang Clang of the Hammer with good effect. The song chosen by Mr. Carpenter Flight of Ages was not as well adapted to his voice as are such declamatory numbers as Let me be a soldier, Fall of Death of Nelson, in which I think he sings at his best. Mr. H. M. Sutherland sang Scotland Yet, and another Scotch song for an encore. He is one of the best interpreters of the best ballads. I have ever heard. His resonant tones, and manner of delivery, are the sentiment of the music, and are most enjoyable. The piano was played by Miss Lamond and Mr. Carpenter. It was from a purely musical standpoint the best of the evening. These extra nights the singing were also played by Miss Lamond and Mr. Carpenter. The last named in his piano work, Mrs. Gunning again showing her remarkable talents, as a accompanist.

The lecture Blundrers spoke on an energy on newspaper in which was not however without a number of dashes indeed, a pathos throughout the entire speech, though true and deep, and philosophical treated into its place as naturally as a sunset in the evening, and as naturally rose the mournful mirth as the crystal stream bubbles from a spring. From a literary standpoint, Blundrers is perhaps not as clever as some of Mr. Nairn's previous work, but it is all it pretends to be and all that its announcement it to be, and that is a short entertainment. It is never dull, or tiresome, for its sentiment changes too abruptly and too frequently to give the audience excuse for losing its interest. Mr. Nairn's inimitable manner in lecturing is a feature which holds his auditors, and is a charm in itself.

RAT PORTAGE, ONT., NOV. 15, 1901

THE TRAIL OF THE PESSIMIST.

During last summer street corner philosophers and barroom sages predicted that Rat Portage would feel a business depression during the coming winter, and this cry was taken up by designing municipal tricksters and some people afflicted with panics, with the result that workmen left town in such numbers as to cause suspension of night work at two of our biggest saw mills. Labor became scarce in consequence and wages went up, but men could not be hired at any price; a striking example of this being furnished by the failure of Manager Peterson to hire common laborers for the Black Eagle mine at $2.00 per day. The first people to feel the effects of the spread of these malicious slanders on the town were the big employers of labor. Capital will not produce one dollar of wealth in any form whatever except by co-operation with labor. You may buy a farm and equip it with the most modern machinery, but if there is no labor on that farm there will not be one bushel of wheat produced in a hundred years. This applies to any form of industry—nay, it applies in a case even where capital is in the form of money is put into a bank at 3 per cent, for, were it not for the labor of the bankers the money would not increase 1 per cent. in a thousand years. The banker lends deposited money to men who are engaged in some business where it is paid but to labor, and the laborer is thus enabled to not only make profit for himself and his employer, but also earns enough to pay the banker for his trouble.

There are millions of dollars invested in and around Rat Portage in wealth-creating industries, but if agitators are allowed to do as they please and decry the town, that capital will very soon be withdrawn and placed somewhere else where it will be allowed to co-operate with labor. The operations of the pessimist leave a trail of poverty and idleness behind them which must take years of earnest effort to obliterate. When the workers are driven from an industrial centre, as was the case here this fall, not only do the employers of labor feel it, but all the merchants of the town find that their sales have decreased in proportion to the falling off in the population; owners of dwelling houses are left without tenants, and those who still have their rental property occupied discover that owing to the number of elation, which seemed to do the worthy councillor considerable good. The mayor is the heaviest taxpayer in the municipality, so that the rebuke, coming from him, who had most to lose in case of depreciation of property, had a salutary effect on the entire school of croakers.

A final word to the pessimists: If the oxen are floundering in the mire, in heaven's name arise and help us to get them out. Instead of sitting there bemoaning the alleged fate of the poor animals. If they are not in the mire, either cease howling calamity or cover your heads with ample gunny sacks.

to big cities in the east, then the business man and the town council come to the Miner. We do not take any credit to ourselves for this: we just happen to have the best machinery and the best workmen, and we believe if any credit is coming to anyone, it ought to go to The Miner job department, and not to us personally. We do not believe in throwing bouquets at ourselves.—Adv.

THE POPULAR DRUG STORE.

Strict attention to every detail of the Drug business, low prices, and giving our people just the thing they ask for, have all contributed to make our establishment the popular drug store of the town. Physicians' prescriptions filled with accuracy and despatch. We invite you to call and examine our large stock of Perfumes and new Toilet preparations.

PAINE'S CELERY COMPOUND.

At this time when thousands are suffering from headache, nervousness, dyspepsia, impure blood, liver complaint and kidney troubles, we can strongly recommend Paine's Celery Compound. This wonderful medicine is the prescription of an eminent physician. Try one bottle; it will give you cheering results. Our stock of Paine's Celery Compound is always fresh. TWO GREATEST LONDONS.

One is in England and the Other is in Ontario.—Similarity Between the Two Places.—York Has Best Nameakes.

Scarborough is at this present moment enjoying a temperature of some eighty degrees in the shade. Palms and giant ferns, orange orchards and banana plantations, environ it, and its streets are crowded with gaily-dressed swarms of jabbering negroes and negresses.

Of course, though, the particular Scarborough referred to is not the famous Yorkshire watering place, but the other town of that name in the West Indies, the capital of the Island of Tobago.

In Massachusetts, U. S. A., is a Sheffield where they make knives. It consists of one long street, shut in and overshadowed by lofty hills, down which tumble innumerable cascades! Up till about ten years ago the town had no industries. Then, one day, an enterprising citizen suggested that they should ape their prosperous British progenitor using the water power ready to hand. No sooner said than done, and to-day the American Sheffield has over a score of forges going, and turns out some thousands of lbs. a day every week. Up to the time of writing, however, it is not on record that Sheffield, U. S. A., is in any way disturbed owing to the competition of Sheffield, U. S. A.

There are thus two Londons in the world, some of them places of considerable importance. The best known of these is London, Ont., Canada, with a population, including the suburbs, of 50,000 thousand souls. It is built on the River Thames, "Wharf" spanned by Westminster Bridge, and it also possesses a Hyde Park, a Covent Garden, a Crystal Palace, a Tower of London, a St. Paul's Cathedral, and a Pitt Mall, Piccadilly and Cheapside.

Electricity annihilates with a mere click, enormous distances, which fade away into a blue haze in the perspective of our imagination. It flashes thought about the perispheric earth, in the fraction of slow moving, heavy-footed time that it takes a schoolboy to describe the periphery of a shilling. It turns night into day, and town clerks into editors; it runs mills and railways and newspapers and soldering irons, and sometimes (now, easy a moment until we put the insulator on our pen)

NEW ZEALAND WOMEN

PHYSICALLY THE VERY FLOWER OF THE BRITISH COLONISTS.

The Use They Have Made of the Suffrage.—91 Per Cent. of These Enfranchised Voted at the First Election—Now They Are One of the Most Intelligent Voting Classes in the World.

As in Hawaii, the first civilized women who visited New Zealand were the wives of missionaries sent out from New South Wales, and subsequently from England. These pioneer women endured hardships from which those who spent their lives in Hawaii were spared. The Maoris, or aborigines, among whom they lived, were a warlike people, and from 1814 until their final submission hostilities were always imminent, massacres occurring in which neither age nor sex was spared.

As it was a long voyage from England, only the most enterprising women had the courage to emigrate, and this, undoubtedly, had its effect upon the present British population, who, men and women both, are the very flower of the British colonists. They are surprisingly tall, athletic, with fresh, rosy complexions, and notwithstanding the enormous quantities of tea they consume, strong as lye, in huge cups, morning, noon and night.

Because of their fitness, the women of New Zealand were treated with distinguished favor, and their children and grandchildren have reaped the benefits. The universities have been co-educational for many years, awarding women degrees with a justice that Oxford and Cambridge might well emulate. There are several clever young women employed upon the colonial newspapers, while others are making their way in other professions, notably that of medicine.

OVERBURDENED.

The Egyptian woman looks greatly overburdened, and yet the physical burdens she carries will not compare with the burdens borne by many an American woman. There is no burden like the burden of disease. The woman who suffers from inflammation or ulceration, bearing-down pains, weak back and nervousness, bears a burden which crushes her very life.

Every woman should know that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription makes weak women strong and sick women well. It cures the womanly diseases which cause weakness and feeble ness. It quietes the nerves, cures the aching back and throbbing head, and gives strength for wifely cares and maternal duties.

"When I first wrote to you I was in a bad condition, and had almost given up," says Mrs. Bell S. Sibley, of Cleveland, Ohio. "I was suffering from foot-sore, the worst kind: I couldn't eat anything without suffering great distress; throat hurt me; spells; was very weak. Had numb hands and a smart toothache all day. My body and aching head and neck. It seemed that I could not work at all. I got Dr. Pierce's medicine and took it as directed, and the first week it began to help. Now I am three hours and am glad to say that it did me more good than all the other medicine I ever took. I feel better than I have for years."

Dr. Pierce's Medical Adviser, in paper covers, is sent free on receipt of one cent stamp to pay expense of customs and mailing only, or if cloth bound volume is desired, send 50 stamps. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

It is well known that after any serious illness the heart and nerves are extremely weak and the blood greatly impoverished. For these conditions there is no remedy equal to Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills. It restores all the vital forces of the body which disease has impaired and weakened.

Mr. T. Barnicot, Aylmer, Ont., says: "About a year ago I had a severe attack of La Grippe which left my system in an exhausted condition. I could not regain strength and was very nervous and sleepless at night, and got up in the morning as tired as when I went to bed. I had no energy and was in a nervous state of health."

tion, and the editor is thus enabled to not only make profit for himself and his employer, but also earns enough to pay the banker for his trouble.

There are millions of dollars invested in and around Rat Portage in wealth-creating industries, but if agitators are allowed to do as they please and destroy the town, that capital will very soon be withdrawn and placed somewhere else where it will be allowed to co-operate with labor. The operations of the pessimist leave a trail of poverty and idleness behind them which must take years of earnest effort to obliterate. When the workers are driven from an industrial centre, as was the case here this fall, not only do the employers of labor feel it, but all the merchants of the town find that their sales have decreased in proportion to the falling off in the population; owners of dwelling houses are left without tenants, and those who still have their rentable property occupied discover that owing to the number of vacant residences their own houses depreciate in value because competition begins to run high among owners. It is a well-known fact that if several men offer a certain article for sale to one man, the one who sells will not get as much for the article as he would if several men wanted to buy from him who happens to be the only man who wishes to sell. This is self-evident on the face of it; and now we come to another phase of the mischief left along the trail of the pessimist. The man who owns the vacant house, and the man who owns the house rented at a figure which is less than he has been accustomed to receive, find themselves unable to pay their taxes promptly, and the municipal managers who have been counting on receiving taxes on a certain date fall behind in their payments of the town's expenses.

And then our old friend the pessimist, who is directly responsible for the whole trouble, comes out and gloats, saying "I told you so!"

There are pessimists who are pessimistic for a set purpose, men who have axes to grind, but who have been flatly denied the use of the municipal grindstone, and who try to throw discredit upon the "council" so that when the elections take place in January next, men who will let our pessimistic fellow citizens grind his axe, will take the places of those who refused to do so.

There are also pessimists who try to misrepresent the council, because of some fancied slight, perhaps it is a business one, and perhaps it is merely a social affair, but wounded vanity is blind to everything but its own smart, and cannot see the littleness of its acts in its impotent fury.

And finally there is the pessimist who sits in an executive seat at perhaps the very council board, and it is this creature who causes the gods to lean against the pillars of paradise and weep. He doesn't know why he is pessimistic, neither do the gods, and hence the tears. A short time ago Mayor Cameron became so indignant at Councillor Brydon for preaching on the streets that the town was tottering on the brink of ruin that his worship administered a severe verbal flag-

News Electric print, who has turned a million volts upon us, and shown us to an unsympathetic public as a mere streak of gauzy phantasm like the "stuff that dreams are made of." We are not the editor of the Miner, for the Town Clerk is, and we are as if we had never been.

Alack the day we ever dared to question the might of "Electra"! We are up against it.

Electricity annihilates with a mere click, enormous distances, which fade away into a blue haze in the perspective of our imagination. It flashes thought about the peripheral earth, in the fraction of slow moving, heavy-footed time that it takes a schoolboy to describe the periphery of a shilling. It turns night into day, and town clerks into editors; it runs mills and railways and newspapers and soldering irons, and sometimes (now easy a moment until we put the insulator on our pen) it runs towns and cities! It picks up the innocuous alderman, and eats him as a mighty cylinder of flames flicks up a handful of shavings.

Electricity has got its claws upon Rat Portage and on Monday, Jan. 6th, it will gobble up the town. At least it will try—with the aid of its trusty squire, the News electric print editor who will wield his mighty Excalibur, as he has never before wielded that flashing blade—to capture the council seats and the mayoralty.

Nit!

The Electric print wants to know, why it should be accused of taking any particular sides in a suit when it reports what has taken place, i.e. the Electric Light suit. This is easy. Why didn't the News report, ALL the proceedings of that court, and tell about the "knock-out blow" that the C.T. & E. Co. got? Is it possible that the News has not heard about the C.T. & E. Coy's allegation which they refused to swear to, that they had been "misled" and "over-reached" and had been "misrepresented"? At the organ of the C.T. & E. Coy, the News must have known these things? Then why did it conceal the truth from its readers? Why is the News so anxious to have the people drop their fight against the C.T. & E. Coy? There is only one reason, which is: because the C.T. & E. Co. and the News know that the people of Rat Portage have got the Electric Light company on the up, and there can be but one outcome in the struggle. It is certainly not the people's time to throw up the sponge just yet.

The News wants to know why the Miner printed some debonair while the former had the municipal contract. We hate to be forced to explain this matter but as the News seems to insist we reluctantly answer why, and explain as gently as we can. Debonaire are a particular job which requires intelligent handling, and the very best workmanship. Now we don't wish to be misunderstood—the News can do good work on motion forms and raffle tickets, and can turn out a fairly decent dodger, if they are not too all-fired busy chasing up scroops on us, but when it comes to printing something that has got to go on all day in the polling booths in one of the worst districts of Dundas, where she then resided. It is a remarkable fact that of the total number of women enrolled at the first election after they were enfranchised over 90 per cent voted.

After the suffrage bill was passed the franchise league disbanded, but reorganized immediately under the title of the Woman's Political Education League. Systematic study of political questions was taken up, and the result has been one of the most intelligent voting classes in the world. As to the result, its entire success may be inferred from the fact that a few years ago one solitary member rose in Parliament to move the abrogation of the law; he could not get a second, and sat down amid roars of laughter; it was the death of opposition to women suffrage.

The women of Australia are somewhat more conventional than those of a foreign town outstripping its British namesake in wealth and importance, but one such is afforded by Boston, in America, which has grown to be more than fifty times the size of Boston, in Lincolnshire.

Yarmouth has one solitary namesake. It is situated in Maine, U. S. A., and there is not a herring within five hundred miles of it. Bath gives its name to an important seaport in the same State, also to nine other places in America, and one in Tasmania. There are exactly a round dozen of Bristol in the various quarters of the globe, in addition to the one in Gloucestershire. The Canterbury in New Zealand is familiar nowadays by name to most people, owing to its being the headquarters of the frozen meat trade; but there are, in addition, seven places of that name in the world. Winchester, once the metropolis of England, gives its name to but one little American hamlet, of about twenty log cabins, hidden away in the backwoods of Michigan.

Windsor is the capital of Hampshire, in Nova Scotia; and there are fourteen Windors in the United States, two in Canada, and one in New South Wales. There are no fewer than sixteen Oxfords in America, eight Exters, seven Bradfords, and four Prestons.

The Irish-Americans have given the name of Erin's capital to no fewer than seventeen villages and hamlets in the land of their adoption; while Edinburgh, curiously enough, considering the Scots' passion for wandering abroad, can boast of but one name, i.e. in the wide world, a tiny village in the Canadian wilderness. Lévis has four towns called after it, two in the United States, and two in Canada. There are six Glasgows—three in the United States, one in Canada, one in Prince Edward's Island and one in Nova Scotia. In the latter island, also, is a Liverpool, on a Mersey River, a well and regularly built town; and there is another in New South Wales, not far from Sydney. Of the 10 Brightons of the world, the only one anywhere near the sea is the original one in Sussex, although one of them is that in Monroe County, New York State—has a suburb called Kemp Town, and another (also in America) has recently had a municipality created with its neighbor, Hove.

Of all English cities, however, York can boast of by far the largest family of namesakes, there being no fewer than eighty-six places, big and little, called after it—Answers.

Answers is incorrect in saying there is only one namesake Yarmouth, and that it is in Maine, for there is one in Canada in the Province of Nova Scotia.

Show God Saves Us.

BY REV. W. M. ROCHESTER.

TITUS 3:4-7.

"But after that the kindness and love of God our Savior toward man appeared, not by works of righteousness which we have done, but according to His mercy He saved us, by the washing of regeneration, and renewing of the Holy Ghost; . . . that being justified by His grace we should be made heirs according to the hope of eternal life."

A prominent preacher and writer has given the following as summaries of a young person's religion:

1. Not a creed, but an experience.

2. Not a restraint, but an inspiration.

3. Not insurance for the next, but a programme for the present world.

Such language cannot stand as an accurate definition of religion, but it does serve to correct prevailing misconceptions, and to place the emphasis on things most important.

The words of Paul before us point much in the same direction. They at least tell us of an experience of cleansing, of a life that is transformed from within, and, though asserting the hope of life, everlasting they do not neglect the intimation of a programme for the present. The writer is pronounced upon this that old things have passed away and a new era begun. "These things I will that thou affirm constantly that they which have believed in God might be careful to maintain good works." But chiefly does his message serve us now to explain how God saves His people.

In this work of saving one thing is omitted out entirely, the effect of man.

and Paul teaches that boasting is excluded by this Gospel, that he that glorieth should glory in the Lord."

"Sovereign grace! o'er sin abounding, Ransomed souls the tidings swell; 'Tis a deep that knows no sounding Who its breadth or length can tell? On its glories Let my soul forever dwell!"

And now our thoughts are directed toward God's work for us and in us. Several distinct features of this saving work are mentioned, and though we may speak of them separately there is no interval of time separating them the one from the other. They are all coincident facts in the experience of every true believer on Christ. He that is cleansed and renewed in the spirit of his mind is justified and adopted into the family of God; and there is no justifying, no forgiveness without the new birth. Every child of God is a new creature in Christ Jesus. It becomes us to note these several phases of salvation.

1. Cleansing and renewing. This is spoken of as the work of the Holy Spirit. The washing, that of regeneration, is the fulfillment of the promise: "Then will I sprinkle clean water upon you and ye shall be clean. From all your filthiness and from all your idols will I cleanse you." Let us not deny the new birth, the renewing of the whole man after the image of God. This is the experience and the inspiration already spoken of in the name of religion.

2. Justification. This refers to God's act of forgiveness and His acceptance of us as righteous. "There is therefore now no condemnation to them that are in Christ Jesus." This is an act of God, and it means the blotting out of the record of sin against us.

3. Adoption. God accords us a new relationship to Him. We are made heirs according to the hope of eternal life. "Behold now are we the Sons of God," and all the privileges and hopes and the full inheritance of that relationship are ours. In the American war of independence a minister of the Gospel and his wife were shot. At the funeral the minister who conducted the service summoned the nine children to the front of the church and then called upon the congregation to fulfill God's promise that the orphan should be cared for. Adopting one himself, his example was followed by others until all found homes. One of these children passed into the family of the Marquis Lafayette. In this aristocratic home he shared to the full the advantages of the home-born sons, and rose to greatness. We have in God's adoption of us admission to high rank, to gracious privileges, and the hope of a rich inheritance. Let us reap the full present value of that new relationship to God. He is near. Let our fellowship be with Him. Tennyson has said: "As the sun is to that flower so is Christ to my soul." And, speaking on another occasion to his friends, he said Christ is as really with us as we walk as He was by the side of the two disciples on the way to Emmaus. This is true. Emmanuel is with us. God with us. Thus God saves us. The Lord hath done great things for us.

In this salvation, all the day. With God we are safe indeed."

ENGLISH GARDENS.

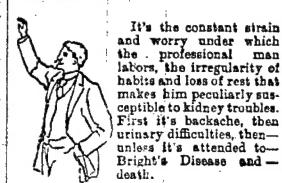

Talks Lure Inspired by "Elizabeth and Her German Garden."

M.A.P. says: Eng. retic ladies with fine country seats have always gardened, more or less successfully, from the days of Eve to those of "Elizabeth and Her German Garden." But the publication of this last — and still more, perhaps, its mythical royal authorship — gave an impetus to gardening as a recreation for society women, which done something more than passing mention in the pages of a society paper. At Euston Lodge, Lady Barwick has a wonderful garden of friendship, where all her friends plant a tree or a dower, each bearing a heart-shaped label and the name of the donor. Her Shakespeare garden is also charming, with apt quotations attached to each flower. There are also lily and rose gardens at Euston, the latter having as a motto at its entrance "Peu choses-mais roses." Villainous bad French, by the way, yet with a very pretty Alfred de Musset sort of ring about it, more or less. Finally, this most poetic of lady gardeners has a border of sentiment where all the herbs and flowers are labeled with the quaint symbols of bygone days, white clover standing for memory, bayleaf for glory, violets for fidelity, and bay for sympathy. The Duchess of Somerset, Lady Londerry, Lady Helen Vincent, Lady Grosvenor, Lady Falmouth and Lady Plowden are all noted gardeners, and most of them delight in old-fashioned posies. Lady Helen Vincent spends a great deal of time over her garden at Ester. She has a beautiful rosary, a dial garden which used to be the Tudor garden in Pelham's day, and a pretty stone bordered little reserve dedicated to all sweet-smelling flowers. This she calls her "Garden of Scents." All over the grounds she has narcissi and forget-me-nots planted in such a way that it becomes in the springtime a veritable parquet of white and blue. Lady Grosvenor boasts of perhaps the quaintest and most fascinating of old gardens in the one at Saughton Grange, which in olden time belonged to the Abbott of Chester. As the monks of old were proverbially good gardeners — the bookish may consult Montalembert's "Moines de l'Occident" — Lady Grosvenor has wisely followed the lines laid down by them, and to-day her beautiful home on the Dee presents the unique spectacle of a garden paved with stones, just as they were laid hundreds of years ago, when sandal shoon pattered over them. To carry out the element of religious symbolism still better, Lady Grosvenor has made what she calls a "Saints' Garden," wherein grow all the blossoms which are named after the holy men and women of the calendar.

Lipton's Typical English Home.

Sir Thomas Lipton, who is unmarried, lives at Osidge, a pleasant, rambling, old-fashioned house, standing in a well-wooded park, near Southgate, Middlesex. Osidge originally formed part of the estates of the abbots of St. Albans, which old-fashioned town, with its venerable cathedral, lies only a few miles distant. The house is comparatively modern, boasting an antiquity of only about a hundred years. The gardens and grounds are delightful, and in the park Sir Thomas has a well laid out golf course, over which he amuses himself with his friends occasionally. There is nothing pretentious about the house, which is designed for comfort and convenience and not as a show place for the rich. Some excellent articles

Professional Men.

It's the constant strain and worry under which the professional man labors, the irregularity of his habits and loss of rest that makes him peculiarly susceptible to kidney troubles. First it's his backache, then urinary difficulties, then unless it's attended to Bright's Disease and —

DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS

Strengthen and invigorate the kidneys never fail to give quick relief and cure the most obstinate cases.

Rev. M. P. Campbell, pastor of the Baptist Church, Essex, Ont., says: "From my personal use of Doan's Kidney Pills, which I got at Sharon's drug store, I can say they are a most excellent remedy for kidney troubles, and I recommend them to sufferers from such complaints."

Dreadful Kidney Pains. Could Not Rest or Sleep.

▲ C. P. R. Conductor's Sufferings. He is Now Well and Gives Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills Credit for the Cure.

Mr. W. E. Berryman, Conductor on the C.P.R., St. Stephen, N.B., writes: "I have been railroading for 23 years, and for ten years suffered from a severe case of Kidney Disease and Backache. I could not sleep at night, and after walking up hill I would have to lie down to get relief, my back was so bad. I could not sleep more than half the night and then didn't seem to get any rest. I had used all sorts of medicines and was pretty badly discouraged when I heard of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. After using two boxes of this treatment I found it was helping me and five boxes have made a complete cure. I now rest and sleep well, my back is strong and the old trouble has entirely disappeared. Many people to whom I have recommended these pills have been cured. Any one wishing further particulars will find me."

The sale of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills far exceeds that of any similar remedy. One trial is enough to convince anyone that this is the greatest family medicine that money will buy. One pill a dose, 25 cents a box, at all dealers or Edmiston, Bates & Co., Toronto.

1. Not creed, but an experience.
2. Not a restraint, but an inspiration.
3. Not insurance for the next, but a programme for the present world.

Such language cannot stand as an accurate definition of religion, but it does serve to correct prevailing misconceptions, and to place the emphasis on things most important:

The words of Paul before us point much in the same direction. They at least tell us of an experience of cleansing, of a life that is transformed from within, and, though asserting the hope of life everlasting they do not, neglect the intimation of a programme for the present. The writer is pronounced upon this that old things have passed away and a new era has begun. "These things I will that thou affirm constantly that they which have believed in God might be confirmed to maintain good works." But chiefly does his message serve us now to explain how God saves His people.

In this work of saving one thing is ruled out, namely, the effort of man by works of righteousness. Salvation is of grace not of works. These works have a place, but this is not their place. By putting them here the divine order of things is reversed. Our good deeds do not purchase for us safety and peace, but "we are created in Christ Jesus unto good works." Salvation is not because of righteousness, but works of righteousness are the fruit of salvation. It is essential that we submit to God's way and observe His order. There is no other way. Our works are inadequate to redeem us from sin and death. Were they efficacious to this end we could readily believe that God would accept them. When therefore we come before the Lord, and bow ourselves before the High God, it must be with those words on every tongue:

"Nothing in my hand I bring,
Simply to thy cross I cling."

The opening of our eyes to the full meaning of sin suffices to convince us of utter bankruptcy and helplessness. Redemption is clearly "beyond our reach."

"Could my zeal no respite know,
Could my tears forever flow,
All for sin could not atone,
Thou must save and then alone."

It is to be observed next that God's love has a place in the saving of men, "is kindness and love of God our Savior toward man" is a thing of long age, but had its manifestation in due time. That full appearance of His love was made at the coming of Christ, when God gave His only begotten Son "at whosever belief on Him could not perish, but have everlasting life. To the merciful loving kindness of God we are indebted for salvation. His love is a great pure fountain from which flows into the waters of everlasting life.

From the mercy of our God
From all our hopes begin,
His mercy saved our souls from death
And washed our souls from sin."

In coming to Him therefore we are to plead not merit but mercy; and our glorying must ever be not in our works but in His free grace. David's prayer suffices when we sue for forgiveness: "Have mercy upon me, O God, according to thy loving kindness: according unto the multitude of thy tender mercies blot out my transgressions."

SCOTT & BOWNE, Toronto, Canada.

Help... Nature

Babies and children need proper food, rarely ever medicine. If they do not thrive on their food something is wrong. They need a little help to get their digestive machinery working properly.

WITH HYPOPHOSPHITES OF LIME & SOAID

will generally correct this difficulty.

If you will put from one-fourth to half a teaspoonful in baby's bottle three or four times a day you will soon see a marked improvement. For larger children, from half to a teaspoonful, according to age, dissolved in their milk, if you so desire, will very soon show its great nourishing power. If the mother's milk does not nourish the baby, she needs the emulsion. It will show an effect at once both upon mother and child.

From the mercy of our God
From all our hopes begin,
His mercy saved our souls from death
And washed our souls from sin."

In coming to Him therefore we are to plead not merit but mercy; and our glorying must ever be not in our works but in His free grace. While the blood is the life of the system, carrying to every part its share of force and energy, it is also the means by which the waste matter, the result of decomposition of the tissues, is removed from the body. If disease has touched the kidneys, there is grave danger, and deadly oppression will settle upon the body and mind.

ONTARIO AT CHARLESTON

Some Things We May Do for Ourselves at the South Carolina Inter-State and West Indian Exposition. (Special by Martha Craig.)

The Province of Ontario recently authorized Frank N. Speller, B. S. C., the Ontario representative of the Commissioners' Association of the Pan-American Exposition, to become a delegate of this association to Charleston on the invitation of the Charleston Exposition Directorate, the party left for the conference of the Southern Railway from Montreal on the 27th instant.

At 10 a.m. short was started to Charleston, hospitality to the delegates of the Canadian Commission Board.

Trade took the visitors

around the city through the Olympia factories and wholesale dispensary, where the delegates remained in the state's

BABY'S HEALTH.

The Most Precious Thing in the World to a Mother—How to Care for Little Ones.

No price would be too great to pay for the preservation of the perfect, sturdy, sound health of a baby. No price would be too great; but as a matter of fact, the price is very small—simply precaution and the exercise of good judgement.

It is not good judgement to give the tender, little infant remedies containing opiates, and the so-called "soothing" medicines, always contain opiates;

they do not cure, they only dull and stupify the little ones. Baby's Own Tablets are guaranteed to contain no opiates and no harmful drugs.

It is the best medicine for little ones, because it is promptly effective and absolutely harmless. For nervousness, sleeplessness, constipation, colic, stomach trouble, the irritation accompanying the cutting of teeth and other infantile troubles, Baby's Own Tablets is beyond question the best medicine in the world. The tablets are sweet and pleasant to take, and dissolved in water can be given with absolute safety to the largest infant. Mothers who have used this medicine for their little ones, speak of it in the most enthusiastic terms—that is the best proof of its efficacy. Mrs. Almaz, Estimate

Local Interest

Dr. Orton, of Winnipeg, died at his residence, Bold street, yesterday morning.

Manager Strong, of the Sultan, was in town today. The lake between here and Bald Indian bay is still clear of ice.

It is expected that the bar and billiard rooms of the Hilliard House will be opened next week.

The town council held an informal meeting last night to discuss the question of water service connections.

It is customary for town clerks, when they are sending out notices of meetings to the mayor and councillors, to drop a card to the city press. Why does the town clerk omit this little courtesy?

Mrs. Frank Peterson arrived this morning from New York where she went to visit relatives.

La Biestille will be the opening bill of the Stutts dramatic company at the Hilliard open house on Monday evening.

Capt. Ishketwood, of the Agwinda who arrived last Friday with the river steamer, leaves Sunday morning for Fort Frances via the Canadian Northern Railway.

Mr. A. C. Boyce has gone down to Sault Ste. Marie, on legal business. He will return in a few days.

A big sale of work will be held on Friday Nov. 22nd under the auspices of the I. C. I. circle, at Knox church.

Mrs. Moore, wife of manager Moor of the soap and door factory, left Tuesday morning for Winnipeg on a visit to her daughter.

Ex-Mayor McCarthy asks us to state that he refuses to believe that News editorial which runs down the town. He did say one or two of the things mentioned therein such as the urging of the council to fit the waterrate with the C. P. R., but he didn't know that

Mr. Chas. Brent, M.E., has returned from Deer lake where he examined a property for an American mining firm.

Mr. J. C. Simpson, of Winnipeg, is in town.

Dr. Spencer will lecture in the Baptist Tabernacle on "Old London," in the near future.

The matron of the hospital, Miss Raynard, desires to thank the Rainy River Navigation Company for a splendid donation of fruit, pickles, bread and in fact good supplies of nearly everything in the grocery line.

Everybody should hear Dr. Spencer's sermon on "Signs of the Times," next Sunday night at the Baptist Tabernacle.

The Keewatin Enterprise made editorial reference to the imperfect lighting system of its town last week. It claims that the cluster service is at times not just exactly what the people are paying for.

If disease has touched the kidneys, there is grave danger, and deadly oppression will settle upon the body and mind.

If you have any of the symptoms of Bright's disease or diabetes, Paine's Celery Compound is the only medicine on earth that can stay the ravages of the disease, and cure permanently. Mr. C. Kevill, of Dunsford, Ont., testifies as follows:

"For the past fifteen years I have been troubled with diseased kidneys. Often while working in a stooping position I would find it difficult to straighten up at once, and I could only do so after repeated efforts. While under very severe attacks of my trouble, I became very nervous, and continually had tired, wornout feelings. My rest at night seemed to do me no good, as I always felt tired in the morning. I have been taking medicines and was getting worse all the time. At last I decided to give Paine's Celery Compound a trial. I procured a bottle, and took it as directed, and found its effect wonderful. Before I had finished the first bottle I began to improve; after I had used the second bottle I felt as well as I ever did in my life. It banished all my aches and pains, and my nervousness disappeared. I can go to bed now and sleep well and rise in the morning rested and refreshed."

Efforts are being made to keep navigation at Fort William open until a late date; also to maintain the upper lake lighthouses.

THE NEW DESIGNS SENT FREE TO ANY ADDRESS.

The manufacturers of the popular Diamond Dye Mat and Rug Patterns are filling orders daily from all sections of Canada and the United States. The pretty designs are attracting the attention of all women who are interested in the making up of homemade mats and rugs. Each pattern is brought out in full, rich colors of the best imported Scotch Hessian, ready ready for hooking. Scores of pretty creations made from the Diamond Dye Mat and Rug Patterns were exhibited at the autumn fairs and attracted much attention. The Wells & Richardson Co., Limited, 200 Mountain St., Montreal, P. Q., will send postpaid to any address sheets of new designs to enable ladies to make proper selections.

an delegate of this association, to visit Charleston on the invitation of the Charleston Exposition Directorate. The party left by special car Aug. 21st, and enjoyed the courtesies of the Southern Railway from Washington southward next day. At every point no effort was spared to show Southern hospitality to their guests. At Columbus where a three-hour stop was made, the Mayor of the city and a Committee of the Board of Trade took the visitors around the city through the Olympia Cotton factory and wholesale drug store dispensary where all the liquor consumed in the state is put up.

Charleston, the object of this trip, is a city overflowing with hospitality and interesting associations. Here the old colonial styles of 150 years ago are preserved notwithstanding the devastating effects of war, fire, floods and earthquake, and amidst these treasured relics of a prosperous past and the subsequent depression are to be seen unmistakable signs of the new industrial activity springing up in the South indicating a rosy future for this fertile country in the near future.

The Fair Grounds situated on an old plantation fronting for half a mile on the Ashley River are now a scene of activity and bustle such as is usually the case prior to the opening of a great exposition. The grounds combined so many natural beauties, such as waterways, immense lines of oaks, old colonial mansions, etc., that it was the unanimous opinion of all landscape architects that they should be left in their natural state, simply adding the handsome group of buildings in ivy-clad staff to complete the effect.

It is the object of this Exposition to bring the northern portion of North America in contact with the West Indies that mutual trade interests should be advanced. A vast amount of enterprise and $11,500,000 has already been expended towards this end and the demands for space have forced the authorities to still further extend their plans.

The South is taking a new start; they need many things that we can supply. Our corundum is rapidly taking the place of the failing supply from Georgia. Arsenic, the only manufacturers of which in America at this time are situated in Deloro, Ont., is required in many branches of the arts and they will undoubtedly require our nickel in the manufacture of nickel steel.

Undoubtedly a portion of the splendid collection of the material in the Mines and Forestry Departments of Ontario at the Pan-American, if moved to Charleston would continue the good work of bringing our resources to the notice of the world at a proportionately low cost to the Province, as the railroads are offering practically free transportation. Canadians will be glad to learn on the authority of Edison's Electrical Superintendent at the Pan-American that mere specialists from Mr. Edison's laboratory are on their way to Sudbury where Mr. Edison has recently a house and office and intends conducting experiments with Canadian nickel ores. Mr. Edison will have 30 of his experts engaged on this work in Sudbury and evidently intends to open up operations of a scale.
